LICHTENWALTER TELLS OF PLANS FOR A GREATER STATE

Congressman Addresses Members of Kiwanis Clubs

ANSWERS QUESTIONS

Forum Held at Conclusion Of The Congressman's Address

RIEGELSVILLE, Oct. 2.—At a special "Pennsylvania Week" dinner-meeting held Thursday evening by the Kiwanis clubs of this borough, Doylestown and Quakertown, the Hon. Franklin H. Lichtenwalter addressed nearly 100 of the club's members.

"Pennsylvania has everything and right now we are planning to hand down to the generations unborn a still greater Pennsylvania," Lichtenwalter declared.

"Our commonwealth has freedom of conscience, of religion and of opportunity."

Commenting on the national and international situations in comparison with Pennsylvania, Congressman Lichtenwalter said, "We in America are in a serious situation."

"Every American is well aware today that there are things that will destroy the freedom which we now enjoy," the Congressman declared.

"No group or organization can combat this loss of freedom; it is up to us as individuals to combat the danger which confronts us. I have enough faith in the American people to know that they will rise to face any emergency."

"An informed public is America's greatest security. We can set ourselves in bondage only by our own consent."

Congressman Lichtenwalter called attention to the fact that not all of the $6,000,000,000 voted to rebuild and clothe the starving Europe is being spent for that purpose.

"The American people are entitled to know what becomes of the tax dollar," the speaker continued.

Some of the questions answered by Congressman Lichtenwalter during a forum discussion were as follows:

Q. "What Congressmen think of socialized medicine and what is to be done?"

A. "The majority of members of Congress are against it."

Q. "How does the individual Congressman operate?"

A. "I think that most Congressmen react to pressure, and often will read out questionnaires and get research material before they vote on a subject."

Q. "How far are they going politically in the unification of Europe?"

A. "Plans are now in the making in an effort to have part of the $6,000,000,000 appropriated for rehabilitation, to be used by war-stricken countries to rebuild their ruined industrial centers."

A VOTE FOR TRUMAN IS A VOTE FOR SOCIALIZED MEDICINE!

Probably no commitment which President Truman has ever made is more clear-cut than his pledge to nationalize the medical profession in the United States.

He has done everything except admit openly that socialized medicine is his objective.

This plank in his platform came to the light of day in his first post-war State-of-the-Union message to Congress (September 5, 1945).

In that address he demanded that Congress give the executive branch of government laws and appropriations to meet the nation's health problems. He said that his plans were not such as to interfere with private medical practice.

The bills which were drafted by his assistants, however, and submitted to the then-Democratic Congress, proved to be modeled closely after the socialized-medicine programs of Russia, pre-war Germany, and Socialistic England.

The Truman plan would provide every conceivable medical service, including dentistry, to all Americans—hospitals, drugs, etc., etc. These would be "free"—except that all wage-earners and salaried employees would have to submit to a payroll-tax to pay for them. It has been estimated that this payroll-tax would run to upwards of 10 per cent before the entire hospital-building and free-treatment program could actually be carried out.

The plan would start with enough to raise an annual fund of $4,000,000,000—three to five per cent of normal wage-salary earnings. But that would be only the beginning!

Study of the plan, which has been urged upon Congress by the President time and again, shows that private medical practice could not survive under it. To begin with, what number of citizens are there who, having paid a heavy payroll tax for medical aid, would then pay the costs all over again simply to be able to choose their own physician? And the plan itself would set up so many trick-standards and qualifications for the practice of medicine that all doctors, dentists, hospitals, etc., would quickly be forced to sign up.

Administratively, the entire program would be taken away from any review or control by Congress—which is to say, by the American people. As a single instance of the un-American devices put into the bill to keep the program wholly under the thumb of the bureaucrats, and to prevent Congress from having any authority over it, there is a provision whereby the health-program budget, although required to be submitted to Congress for approval, would be so submitted AFTER the money was spent, not BEFORE!

There are two entirely different lines of reasons for opposing Mr. Truman's health program.

One is that of resistance to socialized medicine, which is part and parcel of dictatorship.

A SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister, Vishinsky told the United Nations General Assembly that Governor Dewey and President Truman were proponents of an aggressive atomic energy policy under the "illusion" that the United States enjoyed a monopoly of atomic secrets. He emphasized that the Soviet Union "never, never" would accept the plan for international atomic control proposed by Washington. That plan, he said, is meant to give the United States control of the world economy.

Dr. Philip C. Jessup will be this nation's representative in the Security Council when it meets Monday to take up the Berlin issue.

In the former German capital the Soviet commander assured the City Assembly it could meet safely.

At the first meeting of the United Nations Economic and Financial Committee, Poland underscored the Moscow-Belgrade split by opposing the nomination of a Yugoslav delegate for the vice-chairmanship.

Failure of Washington and London to agree over payment arrangements caused a new delay in the final allotment of funds to be made available under the Marshall Plan.

The uncompromising stands of the Soviet Union and of the United States have dimmed hopes for resumption of trade between Eastern and Western Europe.

Two official reports from Palestine to the Security Council indicated that the situation in the Holy Land was deteriorating with growing disregard of the truce.

Charles de Gaulle criticized the plan to organize a Permanent Defense organization of the five Western European Union powers, with Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery as its first chairman, and maintained that France should be the foundation on which defense of the West should be based. His stand influenced a postponement of a communique that was to give details of the new organization.

The railroads asked the Interstate Commerce Commission to sanction a further increase of 8% in freight rates.

Chairman David Lilienthal of the United States Atomic Commission disclosed that the output of plutonium, a basic ingredient of the atomic bomb, was now on a "factory scale" at the Hanford, Wash., plant.

WOMAN WHO FORMERLY TAUGHT SCHOOL AT BRISTOL AND HULMEVILLE, AND NEWTOWN ENGINEER INJURED IN A RAILWAY WRECK WHICH TAKES LIVES OF TWO

Jewish New Year Opens At Sundown Tomorrow

Rosh Ha-shono, the Jewish New Year begins at sundown tomorrow, and concludes for Reform Jews at sundown, Monday. Orthodox and Conservative members of the Jewish faith observe this festival for two days. The Hebrew date of this High Holy Day is the 1st of Tishri 5709.

With the New Year ten days of penitence and prayer commence. In this sacred period a man must make restitution for his sins of omission and commission and resolve to live in such a way as to be pleasing in the sight of God and in the sight of man.

To the Jew, Rosh Ha-shono is one of the most sacred and spiritual days of the year. The day is dedicated to serious thought. One must consider his past actions, and make resolutions to lead a better life in the future. The ten days of awe end with the Day of Atonement, the most solemn day of the year.

The passing of the old year and the beginning of the new show how short is the span of human life and remind man that "he is a stranger and sojourner upon the earth." The idea of God and eternity is brought forcibly to his mind, and teaches him to face squarely for his sins. The blowing of the shofar or ram's horn during the morning service is a clarion call to the conscience. The listener searches the innermost recesses of his heart and analyzes his motives and conduct. This Holy Day is dedicated to the needs of the individual and is spiritual and universalistic in character.

LATEST NEWS BULLETINS

Term Russian Atomic Compromise "Tricky"

Paris—Soviet Russia introduced a so-called compromise on atomic control today and the Western powers immediately found it "tricky" and unconvincing. An American delegate even called it "phony." The proposal was presented to the United Nations Political Committee by Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky. It embodies simultaneous international control of atomic energy and destruction of existing stockpiles. While it marked the first deviation of any sort in Soviet atomic bomb policy in the last few years, U. S. delegate Warren R. Austin branded it "an oriental maneuver." It was made clear that the majority on the Atomic Energy Commission would not accept any measure that is not 100 per cent foolproof.

Six Rescued, Nine Missing from Tugboat

New York—Nine crew members of the tugboat Annie Marie Tracy are missing and six others were rescued today after the small craft was rammed and sunk in the Hudson River by a 7200-ton Liberty ship. The collision occurred a quarter of a mile off West 25th street, Manhattan. The rescued men were taken to St. Vincent's Hospital suffering from shock and submersion after the Tracy was hit by the Eliza J. Nicholson. The Liberty ship, enroute to Albany, hit the tug which had two empty 1,000-ton barges in tow.

Sentence Bishop for Alleged Failure to Report Grant

Budapest—A Hungarian Workers Court sentenced Protestant Bishop Ludwig Ordass today to two years in jail for allegedly failing to report a promised financial grant from U. S. Protestants. Alexander Varga, general secretary of the Protestant Church, received a three year term. The two men were found guilty of having neglected to tell the currency control office that an American Protestant Church group had promised to place $250,000 yearly at the disposal of the Hungarian Church.

Bulgaria Replies Sharply to Accusation

Sofia—Bulgaria replied sharply today to an American note which accused the Balkan country of "systematic and ruthless" obliteration of democracy. The U. S. note was in answer to a Bulgarian charge that America had barred the Soviet satellite from UN membership, despite the latter's adherence to the peace treaty. The Bulgarian note expressed "astonishment" over the U. S. refusal to support Bulgaria's application for UN membership.

Mrs. Nellie Graham Phillips (Nee Whipple), of Belle Meade, N. J., and Alexander Thompson, Newtown, Are in Mercer Hospital, Trenton, N. J.—Mrs. Puritan Hughes, of Skillman, N. J., Vainly Tries to Save Her 'Teen-Age Daughters from Death As Coach Overturns and Burns.

A former teacher in the Bristol and Hulmeville public schools, and a Newtown man, are both patients in the Mercer Hospital, Trenton, N. J., suffering from injuries received when a gasoline-propelled coach on the Reading Railroad overturned and caught fire yesterday in Hope-well Township, N. J.

Two sisters were burned to death, and their mother injured in the same accident.

The injured: Mrs. Nellie Graham Phillips (nee Whipple), 65, wife of Fred Phillips, of Belle Meade, N. J.

Alexander Thompson, 65, of 312 Washington avenue, Newtown.

Mrs. Puritan Hughes, 39, Skillman, N. J., mother of the dead girls.

The dead: Ellen Hughes, 19, Skillman, N. J.

Equilla Hughes, 13, Skillman, N. J.

The coach ran into an open switch, overturned, and caught fire on the main line of the Reading Railroad, seven miles north of Trenton, N. J., just before noon. The accident occurred at the Pennington-Washington Crossing of the main line between New York and Philadelphia. The train, which operates between Bound Brook and Trenton, was on the west-bound track when it ran into the open switch, overturned and was soon ablaze. At the time there were only four passengers aboard. The Hughes girls were in the rear of the coach and were trapped beneath the wreckage. Their mother made frantic efforts to pull them to safety. She, however, was driven away by the flames, which enveloped the car.

Mrs. Phillips and Mr. Thompson, the latter being engineer of the train, were removed to Mercer Hospital, Trenton, N. J. At the hospital this morning it was stated that the condition of the two is fair.

Mrs. Phillips was not burned, but suffered other injuries. Extent of injuries is expected to be determined today when X-rays are taken. Mrs. Phillips, who taught ninth grade mathematics at Harriman building here several years ago, is the former Mrs. Nellie Graham (nee Whipple). She had previously taught at Hulmeville public school. Her husband, Fred Phillips, is agent at Belle Meade station. This morning Mr. Phillips stated that his wife is conscious.

Mrs. Hughes was treated at the scene for cuts, bruises and shock. The father of the dead girls told police that Ellen was en route to visit a physician for a check-up, following a recent appendicitis operation. Her mother and sister were accompanying her to the physician's office.

Robert Henne, of West Trenton, a member of the train crew, and Thomas Callahan, 60, of Trenton, conductor, managed to escape from the blazing coach. Both were dazed when they were assisted to safety by volunteer rescuers.

Telephone calls resulted in sending details of State police from the West Trenton barracks and volunteer fire companies from the surrounding area. A work train was rushed to the scene from the Reading Company yards in Trenton.

Through traffic on the main line was delayed, all trains being ordered to slow down and proceed cautiously in the immediate area of the wrecked coach.

The volunteer fire fighters fought the blaze for more than an hour before bringing it under control.

Officials of the Reading Company later said that the passenger coach was on its regular run when it ran into the open switch.

WARRIORS LOSE TO POTTS TOWN BY SCORE OF 46 TO 0

Pottstown High had too much class for Bristol High last night on the home gridiron as the Warriors were smothered by the overwhelming score of 46-0.

Pottstown had things their own way from the start of the game until the finish, outshining Bristol in every way and appearing to be one of the best teams to come here in many years. Everything the Trojans did seemed to be right.

The visitors were well-drilled and the backs had excellent blocking which enabled them to pile up much yardage. Defensively, the Pottstown team held Bristol with ease. The locals did not make a first down and the only time Bristol was in Pottstown territory was in the third period when the Trojans suffered two fifteen yard penalties in succession. This was the only time the invaders were forced to kick the ball.

Pottstown's coach, Heber Meyers, had a fleet of backfield men that were streaks of lightning. Even some of his second string backs ran as fast as they were jet-propelled. In the final quarter, the diminutive "A" Walton with the big "12" on his white jersey carried the pigskin two from the 30 yard line to score.

Bristol played hard against a hopeless cause for their opponents was a much better team. "Jim" Sottile made some nice tackles and "Sammy" Petrizzi got off some wonderful boots but it seemed that everytime Pottstown got possession of the ball, it worked itself to a score. Trying to stop a Pottstown touchdown in the second quarter, "B" Kornstedt, Bristol fullback was cut on the head.

The fans had just become comfortably seated when the Trojans made the first of their seven touchdowns. The drive started at mid-field and ended when "Pete" Peroni went over from the 3-yard line and Joe Axsmith added the extra point. Bristol did well to hold the visitors scoreless the remainder of the period.

The brunt of the invaders' attack came in the second session when they pushed over three six pointers. "Cubby" Stouch scored two of the touchdowns with runs of 10 and 15 yards while Tote Howard made the other on a center plunge from the end-yard line. Bodolus scored one conversion on an end sweep.

Bristol braced enough to hold Pottstown to a single score in the third quarter, that being a line slice by "Chink" Dobry from the two-yard line. To start the final period, Dobry made his second score on a 13-yard end run after Mager had passed to Stepie to put the ball in scoring position. Axsmith picked the extra point. Walton's two plays from the 30 ended the scoring.

Pottstown had 15 first downs in the game. Bristol tried many passes without success.

Lichtenwalter Tells of Plans for Greater State

Q. "What is the average legal opinion of members of Congress concerning un-American activities."

A. "There has been considerable criticism about the method used by Congress in recent un-American activities hearings. It was not in keeping with the Congressional code concerning hearings. It also takes a majority vote of the entire Congress to make the contempt charge of a committee stick."

Q. "What do you think of the Voice of America program to European nations?"

A. "In my opinion, it is not too successful. I would rather see the American Red Cross, Care and the Salvation Army take over, so that help goes directly to the people and not to the national governments of the countries involved."

In his closing remarks, Congressman Lichtenwalter said that Russia received $11,000,000,000 from the United States during the war, and that nothing has ever been paid on this great debt, and that any payment whatsoever will depend upon the outcome of the Berlin crisis.

Monday Is Final Day For Class Registration

Over 200 students have registered for the Class Center being held at the Bristol high school which opened Monday evening, according to Arthur K. Meyers, Pennsylvania State College representative. Although registrations have been carried on Monday and Thursday of this week, he pointed out that Monday, October 4, will be the final day for registration. He warned that it would be impossible for anyone to start school after that date.

College officials indicated that the classes in session include: Industrial organization and management, technical writing and speaking, business organization and management, shop mathematics, shorthand, engineering drafting, direct current circuits, English in business practice, elementary accounting, office methods, principles of engineering drawing, drafting practices, algebra, shop foreman, salesmanship, job analysis and evaluation, and human nature and management.

College officials pointed out that the initial success of the plan to bring college level evening courses to Bristol, which has been due in considerable degree to the efforts of the local advisory board, has exceeded that of many other similar centers initiated elsewhere in the Commonwealth, according to Alfred E. Lewis, administrative head.

The local advisory board is chairmanned by superintendent of Bristol schools, Warren P. Snyder. Other board members are serving
